Kendra Dandy is a beloved independent artist and influencer, born and raised in Philadelphia. Her love of art and fashion started when she was very young.

Fiercely independent, Kendra never settled for a conventional job, always wanting to be her own boss. After earning her degree in Media Arts and Design, she discovered that surface design combined her love for illustration and fashion, and enabled her to create brilliant and exciting new patterns.

MEET THE ARTIST

"I am independent and enjoy working on my own, and doing what I like with my own point of view."

When she found out that she could make a living this way, she knew it was what she wanted to do. Kendra created her now much-adored brand Bouffants & Broken Hearts in 2012, and in 2015 she fearlessly made the big leap to turn her art into a full-time career.

Through her art, Kendra wants to encourage people to add some fun and color to their lives, and never be afraid to be authentic, bold or fearless in their choices.
